News of the Postulation

In July, we received the results of the consultation with the two doctors relating to the case of Josette Poulain, before the final stage in front of five doctors. One might have expected at least one doctor giving a positive indication. Such was not the case. Both doctors agreed there was “insufficient diagnosis”.

After having thought about the possible outcome of this case, either by answering the objections or by asking for a new enquiry, it was decided not to pursue this case any further but instead to go for the case of Enzo Carollo in Buenos Aires, which was not agreed by the seven doctors but which we were encouraged to take up again.
